HELPING ELEMENTARY TEACHERS BECOME CULTURALLY RELEVANT EDUCATORS: NEW TOOLS for A NEW GENERATION
November 12, 2011

The Maryland Institute for Minority Achievement & Urban Education (MIMAUE) offers a Professional Development opportunity to elementary school teachers in the form of a highly compact, “to-the-point” one-day conference. The general theme of this 1 day conference is culturally relevant teaching. The general tenets of this pedagogy will be applied to the teaching of English/Language Arts and Mathematics in the elementary school. The conference will be held at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The MIMAUE Professional Development conference is tailored to grade 1 - 6 elementary teachers. The conference day is divided into three segments:

- The morning of the conference begins with exploring definitions and many elements of Culture, cultural diversity among our students and thus our classrooms, and appropriate methods of using classroom diversity to maximize learning. (1.5 hours)
- The second part of the morning will focus attention on teaching English/Language arts using a culturally relevant pedagogy. (2.5 hours)
- The afternoon session will focus on teaching mathematics using a culturally relevant pedagogy. (2.5 hours)

The cost for the one-day conference is $450 per person. This cost includes instruction, materials and a sandwich lunch.
